PEMBROKE TUTORS l ELITE LONDON TUITION

ELIZA

Having been taught exclusively in French for ten years at the Lycée Français Charles de Gaulle in South Kensington, I was bilingual from a young age. I also studied Italian to A Level. Growing up surrounded by friends from many countries and cultures has given me a great curiosity about the world and an outward-looking perspective.

I went on to St John's College, Oxford, to read English Language and Literature, finding the focused tutorial system the perfect way to develop my critical thinking. Having graduated last summer, I am currently tutoring alongside starting law studies, ahead of starting a training with a leading City law firm in autumn 2019.

Literature has always been my great passion and one which I love being able to share with younger students, hoping to pass on that enthusiasm to others.

Education

Sep 2017 – Jun 2019   BPP University, London (Forthcoming)
Graduate Diploma in Law (2017 – 2018)
Legal Practice Course (2018 – 2019)

Sep 2013 – Jun 2016   BA (Hons) English Language and Literature, St John's College, University of Oxford
Grade: Upper Second Class
Score in summer examinations: 64.3

Sep 2011 – Jun 2013   St Paul's Girls' School, Hammersmith, London
A levels: French A*, English A, History A, Italian A
AS levels: Maths B

Sep 1999 – Jun 2011   Lycée Français Charles de Gaulle, South Kensington, London
GCSEs: 10 A*s – English Literature, English Language, History, French, Italian, Mathematics, Chemistry, Physics, Biology, Latin

---

Tuition History

I have offered tuition services over the last 2 years, and have significant experience in the following areas:

i.   11 / 13+ tuition: Verbal and Non Verbal reasoning, Mathematics, English
ii. General support for Years 1-6
iii. GCSE level: English Literature and Language, French
iv. A Level : English Literature, French
v.   Supporting Oxbridge applications - currently 100% success rate
vi. Supporting 16+ School applications to St Paul's Girls' School and Westminster School - currently 100% success rate

For me, the key to successful learning is making a subject personally engaging: finding the spark that captures a student's imagination, and unlocks a passion and a drive to succeed. I always keep tutorials positive and encourage students to boost their confidence and their expectations of themselves. I make sure that each lesson is carefully planned ahead to most effectively suit the student's needs.

1

Employment History

Sept 2019   Herbert Smith Freehills LLP, London – Training Contract (Forthcoming)

2015 - Present Private Academic Tutor
Private tutor in English Literature and French for all levels up to GCSE and A-Level. I also currently tutor a broad range of students of mixed abilities in Years 2, 3, 4 and 5. Additionally, I have mentored students writing personal statements for UCAS and at a 16+ level for applications to St Paul's Girls' School and Westminster School.

Dec 2016   Herbert Smith Freehills LLP, London – Winter Vacation Scheme
I spent a week working in Securitisation, during which my research allowed me to explore the interaction between technical financial work and the wider regulation of credit institutions. With the Financial Litigation team, I attended a Case Management Conference in the High Court as well as strategy meetings with partners.

Nov 2016   Gallant Maxwell Ltd, Soho, London W1D 4DA – Legal Intern
Attended debt-restructuring negotiations with clients and their lenders, and attended a Court of Appeal hearing in a shareholders' dispute. Drafted and edited employment contracts. Took the note for a class action suit conference with counsel and solicitors from other firms.

Aug 2016   Old Square Chambers, Bedford Row, London WC1R 4BU – Mini-pupil
Reviewed legal documents, drafted attendance notes, and accompanied barristers to court to hear cases ranging from personal injury to whistleblowing. Improved my knowledge of Employment law by attending court and tribunals as well as client conferences.

July 2016   Walker Books Ltd, Vauxhall, London SW11 5HJ – Marketing Intern
Intern working both with the Marketing and PR teams of this children's book publisher on upcoming projects, social media campaigns and market research. I also edited manuscripts and filed reports on potential acquisitions for the Editorial department.

Sept 2015   SuperAwesome, Advertising Agency, London WC2E 9LG – Intern
Market research intern for a children's digital media platform. I worked with the Insights team which provided monthly and bespoke market research reports.

Achievements

2015   Oxchange – Internet Startup, Oxford University – Co-founder
I won a university-wide IT competition to secure £20,000 funding from Oxford University to set up an online skills exchange platform for members of the university. The seed money was earmarked for the initial stages of business planning, product design and marketing strategy. The concept was to bring together people from a variety of backgrounds, countries and cultures, through an exchange of skills – an hour of French tuition in return for, say, an hour-long piano lesson – thereby harnessing the university's richest resource: knowledge.

Interests

As captain of my college's women's football team at university, I learnt how to motivate and manage others, while building on our strengths as a team to reach development targets and, ultimately, to achieve league promotion. As the captain, my teammates looked to me to inspire loyalty and comradeship. Yet, equally important was helping individuals to flourish and rebuilding their confidence when they felt they were underperforming. It was hugely rewarding to lead a team to success and see such tangible results.

Music is also important in my life. I attend classical concerts, sing jazz, play the piano and have taught myself guitar. Following several summer seasons singing in the chorus at London's Opera Holland Park (including in Cosi Fan Tutte, Nabucco and Tosca), I performed in my school choir. I also achieved a Grade 7 Musical Theatre award.

References

Available on request.